DISTRICT COURT. FIFTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT.

Second Day, Feb. 4.

Concluded from second page.

Court called to order at 10 a. m. Minutes of previous session read by county clerk Seth A. Pymn and approved by the Judge. The committee appointed to examine applicants for official reporter submitted a report as follows: that they met in accordance with the order of the court. Mr. W. L. Cook being the only applicant present, after careful examination, found him to possess every qualification required to the position. Whereupon the court by the power invested in them appointed the said W. L. Cook reporter of this Fifth Judicial District, until otherwise provided by said Court.

The case of Woolley, Lund & Judd vs. H. T. Atkin, being called, the plaintiffs were represented by J. W. Christian, Jno. W. Johnston and George R. Lund, and defendant by O. H. Foster and Doctor Clift.

Geo. R. Lund was called and testified that he was bookkeeper for plaintiffs part of 1890, 1891 and 1892 and from his knowledge of his books, business, etc., were confident they were correct. Further testimony was introduced by R. C. Lund, E. G. Woolley, and Allen Wakelin, who testified in behalf of plaintiffs.

Court adjourned till 2 o'clock.

AFTERNOON, 2 p. m., Feb. 4.

Case of Woolley, Lund & Judd vs. H. T. Atkin was continued and examination of witnesses attended to, until closing time, 4 o'clock, at which time court adjourned until 10 a. m. next morning.

Third Day, Wednesday Feb. 5.

Court commenced at 10 a. m. When preliminaries were attended to, then case of Woolley, Lund & Judd vs. H. T. Atkin was called and testimony in the case was taken for plaintiffs. Plaintiffs rest and Wm. Atkin and Mrs. Bowler Blake testified in behalf of the defense. Recess until 2 p. m.

Court resumed session at 2 p. m. George A. Atkin, the defendant H. T. Atkin and O. P. Snow testified in behalf of the defense.

Ashby Snow and R. C. Lund gave testimony in rebuttal for the plaintiffs. J. W. Christian opened the argument for the plaintiffs with legal reference in support of their claim. He was followed by O. H. Foster for the defendant, who eloquently represented his side of the case. Judge John W. Johnston closed the case in a lengthy and able argument for the plaintiffs, and the court took the case under advisement.

Court adjourned until 10 o'clock to-morrow morning.

Fourth day, February 6.

Sheriff Worthen cried Court open at 10 a. m.

The court rendered his decision in the case of Woolley, Lund & Judd vs. H. T. Atkin, awarding judgment in favor of plaintiffs and against the defendant, in the sum of $208.43, costs of suit amounting to $49.35.

The case of Samuel L. Adams came regularly for trial, the plaintiff being represented by O. H. Foster and George R. Lund, while the defense was represented by J. W. Christian, and D. H. Morris.

The demurrer to the complaint was fully argued by both sides and court over-ruled the demur, whereupon the defendants moved to amend their answer by pleading the statute of limitation, which was granted by the court, the defendants to pay the costs accrued in the case, amounting to $14.05.

The court ordered that the rules of practice heretofore submitted, be adopted as rules of this Judicial District Court. In the matter of the estate and guardianship of Josephine Starr, Nellie M. Starr and Mary M. Starr, and the order of the sale of real estate to one Joseph Fuller, be confirmed by this court.

In the matter of the estate of Solon Foster Jr., deceased, Sarah M. Foster the administratrix of said estate having presented to this court for settlement, through her attorney, F. L. Daggett, the court orders that the 5th day of May, A. D., 1896, is the day appointed for the settlement of said account and hearing of petition of distribution, and that notice be given, at least four successive weeks immediately preceeding the 5th day of May, in the St. George UNION. Upon motion of Attorney George R. Lund for admission of Francis L. Daggett to the bar of this court, the following committee were appointed to examine him: John W. Johnston, George R. Lund and David H. Morris, and after examination in open court, the said Daggett was sworn in as an Attorney at Law. Court adjourned till tomorrow morning, at 9:30 o'clock.

On motion of John W. Christian a committee consisting of John W. Johnston, George R. Lund and Dr. Clift, were appointed to examine E. G. Woolley touching his qualifications to his admission to the bar of this court, and after examination in open court, he was thereupon sworn in as an attorney to the bar of this court.

Court adjourned till the first Monday in May next.

As I purpose starting my saw-mill, at Trumbul, early in the spring, I hereby give notice to all parties who desire orders for lumber, filled, that it will be advantageous for them to send in their orders early in order that the lumber may be stacked and seasoned before it is to be hauled. My terms are as usual,—twenty per cent cash and balance in produce at the highest market cash valuation. Parties desiring to trade other property, will please correspond with me on the matter.

Address, David F. Stout, Rockville, Washington co., Utah. 9-5t

Hurry it up.

Say, Joe, can't you get the UNION out a day ahead this time? why, the whole town is hunting up that man that crossed the plains in 1856 and the one that came in 1859, who still have the teams that pulled their effects across the plains in those years, and I overheard a group of men talking the matter over and they came to the conclusion that Tanik had lied this time sure. Finally a young man came up and one man turning to him, said, "say, have you read the last UNION?" He said "No." "well, just hear this lie;" and he read it over to him. "Now, will you read a lying paper like that?" "well," said he, "I don't know about the 1856 man but I know the 1859 man has got his team all right, and if you will just wait awhile, you may know it too." But he had one friend there, who, when he was leaving, called him to one side and said, "Say, tell me who owns those mules? I can't believe the yarn!" "Now, you may not believe it, but I know it, for I was the teamster." "what do you mean? how old are you?" "I will be 37 in March." "well, well; that's a cold one. why the year you was born is the year you say you was teamster!" "well, yes, but that's all right. You must know my father and mother was poor and couldn't hire a big teamster and they had me; and they did not have a big wagon, either; just a little cart; and father was on one side and mother on the other and they pulled together then and they are pulling together yet.

The Sencarlos Apaches are again on the rampage. Yesterday evening, S. Hinton, a cowman, while riding along the reservation, was fired upon from ambush, at a point about fifteen miles from Sencarlos Agency. He avoided shots and arrived safely at Sencarlos, nearest Station, where assistance could be found. All settlers in the vicinity and near Fort Thomas, are confidently expecting an attack in the future.

Late tonight, Scott Jackson a student at the Dental College, was arrested, on the charge of murdering Pearl Bryan. It is said he carried the girl's head in his valise all day. He is an effeminate looking man, 24 years old, of light complexion, and wearing a sandy mustache. He was taken in to the mayor's office and put through a most rigid examination by the mayor and chief of police. The ordeal lasted until midnight but he came through it with apparent calmness and was then committed to the City prison without bail. He has many characteristics of the California murderer Durran.

It is believed that Col. A. J. Fountain, Albuquerque, New Mex., has been murdered by cattle thieves.
